

Are you recently retired from school foodservice (local, state or national level) and know NSLP regulations better than your own children's names?

CN Resource (CNR) is a national child nutrition consulting firm that contracts with State Agencies to conduct Administrative Reviews (ARs), Child and Adult Care Food Program (CACFP) reviews, Summer Food Service Program (SFSP) reviews and Procurement reviews. We conduct reviews across the country and are currently looking for experienced people to conduct Administrative Reviews for the National School Lunch Program (NSLP).

Reviewers – CNR is looking for people who are recently retired food service directors or individuals with State Agency experience that know USDA regulations well. Reviewers will travel 1-2 weeks a month, during the school year, completing 3-4 Administrative Reviews each week. Reviewers can adjust their schedules to fit in with personal and family obligations. Strong computer skills, organizational skills and communication skills are necessary.

CN Resource - Provides training and resources for reviewers to successfully complete the Administrative Reviews in a timely manner. Additionally, there is phone support during the entire review process. All travel arrangements including; flight, rental car and hotel reservations are booked through CNR.

The BEST part is that Reviewers can live anywhere in the country! If you are interested in becoming part of the CN Resource team, please email your resume, including contact information to: info@cnresource.com or dhawkin@cnresource.com
